Some of the features of this application include the ability to add annotative elements to an image, undo/redo, plus other, as the application is more than just a converter. W.2d 212, 215 (2001) (emphasizing that in order to find jurisdiction, the cause of action must be incidental to the primary purpose of the charter). "Where... the municipality is not so engaged in its primary function as to require it to be clothed with the exemption, it is not exempt, whatever its actual function may be." Id. at 215 (quoting St. Louis v. Thomas, 66 Mo. App. 722, 720 (Mo.App.1898)). Furthermore, "public service corporations... are not municipal corporations and are not affected by the law of municipal corporations." Id. (quoting Glover v. U.S. Steel Corp., 355 Mo. 884, 198 S.W.2d 442, 445 (1946)). The court concludes that the operational responsibilities of the Housing Authority within the City of Hannibal are not of the type that would require it to be covered by the municipal-charter exemption. See id. ("There is no contention that [the Housing Authority] is engaged in an operation in the construction and operation of buildings or for street construction and maintenance."). Therefore, the court finds that the Housing Authority is not a municipal corporation for purposes of the municipal-charter exemption. B. The "Prime Contractor" Defense The Housing Authority contends that, to the extent that it is a contractor, it may raise the "prime contractor" defense under the Miller Act because the Housing Authority entered into the prime contract with the City of Hannibal before the performance bond was entered into. See United States v. Mapelli Moving & Producing Co., 363 F.Supp. 753, 757 (E.D.Tenn.1973) (applying the prime contractor defense to the Miller Act). The Miller Act provides that a claim is barred if "the prime contractor provides to the owner, before the execution of the subcontract, written notice that states either the name of the claimant or a method by which the claimant may be reasonably identified, and the amount claimed is included in that notice." 40 U.S.C. § 270b(a). To be entitled to the prime contractor defense, the Housing Authority must show that (1) the Housing Authority "properly performed its own obligations under the prime contract and (2) the City did not notify [the Housing Authority] of the nature of its claim until after the performance bond was entered into." Johnson, 60 F.3d at 691. The court finds that the Housing Authority is a contractor within the meaning of the Miller Act. See id. (finding that the defendant was not entitled
